Ski Area - Arabba, Sellaronda

The Sella Ronda is a huge mountain and it is possible to ski around it in a day via Corvara and Canazei. The largest inter-linked area on the huge Dolomiti Superski lift pass, it also provides lift-linked access into the valleys of Alta Badia (Corvara, Colfosco, La Villa and San Cassiano); famous Val Gardena with Selva, St Christina and St Ulrich and the upper section of the Val di Fassa (Canazei and Campitello). Another skiing benefit is that Arabba is close to the lifts giving access to the Marmolada glacier which provides excellent high-altitude skiing. A final benefit is the glorious vista all around, with the pink rock of the Dolomites formed into towering cliffs and spires to create some spectacular scenery.

Ski Area - Civetta

Civetta is situated in the heart of the Veneto Dolomites in the South-East of the Dolomiti Superski area. Main towns: Alleghe, Pescul, Palafavera, Pecol, Zoldo, Selva di Cadore. 25 lifts and 90 km of slopes for skiers of all levels – altitude from 979 mt to 2100 mt above sea level. The ski resort is surrounded by breathtaking nature and mountain scenery. Skiers can enjoy night skiing on a long slope in Palafavera. 90% of the downhill trails are covered by artificial snow. It is easy to reach other ski resorts of the Dolomiti Superski area owing to the free ski-bus service. Very famous is the “Ski tour First World War”, which leads to those Dolomites peaks where World War I was fought. Civetta belongs to the one of the most beautiful ski-carousels in all The Dolomites.

Marmolada the Queen of the Dolomites. The Marmolada, with its 3,342 m. altitude, is the highest mountain in the Dolomites. Its' northern side is covered by the largest glacier in the whole Dolomites group. The Marmolada Glacier contains the resort villages of Arabba and Malga Ciapela that are both linked together. The ski area can be easily reached with the cableways from Malga Ciapela and Lago Fedaiia. There is “La Bellunese” a slope that runs from Punta Rocca (3.270 mt.) down to Malga Ciapela for 12 km. This slope is considered by international press reports as the most beautiful in the Alps and the Dolomiti Superski Area. It is a difficult ski run because of very changeable weather conditions.

Sellaronda the biggest ski-carousel in Europe the name means the circuit around the Sella massif across the four passes: Passo Pordoi - Passo Campolongo - Passo Gardena - Passo Sella. This is a series of ski-lifts and downhill runs, all linked to one another and set against a background of woods, rocky peaks and expanses of snow. Joining the skiing circuit is easy: just follow the roads that take you to one of the four villages around the Sella mountain: Selva di Val Gardena, Corvara, Canazei, Arabba. The length of the circuit, including both, ski lifts and ski runs, is about 65 km at the altitudes from 1465 mt till 2300 mt above sea level.

Ski area - Kronplatz

Mountain range:

Kronplatz The number one skiing mountain in South Tyrol.

The Kronplatz mountain, with its 2,275 meters high summit and its beloved bald head, is visible from every vantage point in the valley. Pure and simple, Kronplatz is one of the major skiing areas in South Tyrol. In the valley and on the slopes you will find fun, a great atmosphere, traditional mountain huts, regional delicacies and relaxing après-ski. The Kronplatz skiing region can offer more than 100 km of excellently prepared slopes. From three sides, 31 modern lifts lead up onto the wide, generally tree-free and gently sloping cusp of this panoramic mountain. The skiing area of Kronplatz has the most modern and comfortable lifts. Thanks to their large carrying capacity of more than 6,390 people per hour the lifts are not crowded. The slopes are able to satisfy even the most demanding of skiers. State-of-the-art compact snow machines and high-performance ski-slope maintenance equipment, along with an army of around 300 staff, ensure optimum slope conditions at all times. From Winter 06/07 there is a new direct connection ("Piculin lift) to the Alta Badia and Sella Runde skiing region.

Those of you who wish to practice cross country skiing can follow the routes that are used in the World Cup events in Antholz and Gsieser Tal Valley.

Ski Area - San Martino Di Castrozza

Mountain range:

The Ski Area San Martino di Castrozza, Passo Rolle and Primiero is one of the 12 different ski areas in the huge Dolomiti Superski carousel.
